

Swat Spots for Finals Sobs...

Across

- 6. Everyone agrees that this is the worst floor of the worst study spot, so it's perfect for late-night sobbing.
- 14. See, this place is new, and I haven't tried it out yet, but freaking out in a movie theater is fun.
- 15. This is a Corinne classic crash-out location. It's perfect because it's the quiet floor, and everyone's already sobbing over work with you.
- 16. If you cry in front of Val Smith's house, maybe she'll cancel finals?
- 17. I've heard they have some bean bag chairs and cool books? And a color printer?
- 18. This spot's perfect because music will drown out your tears.
- 19. See, this one isn't site-specific because it's the most accessible. Get clean and cry to your heart's content. Two for one special.
- 22. You're crying because the art is beautiful...right? It's a perfect alibi for when your mascara is running.
- 23. This used to be where the OSE was, but now there's just a sad laundry room and cockroaches. Tranquil.
- 24. Most of the time, this Narples area is pretty quiet because it has to be, so it's a safe option.

Down

- 1. Hey, it's not only for First Collection! Expand your hysteric horizons!
- 2. This is where your editorial board wets their eyes every Wednesday.
- 3. If you live in Willets, I can almost guarantee you've gone here overly upset about orientation. Me too, me too.
- 4. When you work up a sweat, nobody can tell that you're crying.
- 5. Your WA can wipe your tears for you!
- 7. If you're into tearing up on a tree trunk, this is probably a good fit for you.
- 8. At least you can get crafty while you cry? Bare minimum here.
- 9. You might run into RnM while sobbing, but it's okay, dance it off!
- 10. My friends and I cry when we remember that pub night was a thing (SHOUTOUT TO THE SOPHOMORES BRINGING IT BACK!)
- 11. Now, many students can't access this one because it's only for painting and photography classes. If you can, break it down here.
- 12. I'm not sure if I'm making this one up, but I heard that you can go near the greenhouse and vibe. Or scream.
- 13. If you're going to sob, at least do it where there's strobe lights. Maybe not great for finals, but hey, we all need to let out a little steam.
- 20. I included this dorm because the parties will probably be louder than your sobs.
- 21. I added this dorm because everyone living there is sad about its distance in the winter.
